The norton anthology of world literature volume 1 citation

As the Norton Anthology of English Literature© contains a variety of texts, it can be confusing to comment on it in your essay. You need to quote not just the anthology itself, but© also the specific text from which you are drawing the information. However, both MLA and APA formats have rules for quoting anthologies in the text and in their bibliography. Quote in text using the author of the text you are using, not the editors of the anthology. In parentheses, type the author's last name followed by the page number from which you drew the information. If you mention the author's last name in the body of your essay, just put the page number in parÁnteses at the end of the session. For example: Bath's wife claims to have had five husbands (Chaucer 257). Chaucer likes the wife of bath's husbands with the husbands of the Samaritan woman in the potion (257). Step 2Cite a text without known author using the title of the text in place of the author's name. Place the shorter works titles in quotation marks and italicize the titles of longer works. For example: "The Dream of the Rood" describes the cross of Christ as covered with gold and gems. Some Anglo-Saxon poets described Christ in his crucifixion as a warrior ("The Dream of RaAh" 27). Step 3Cite the text in your bibliography by writing the author's last name, followed by the first name and a scroll. If the author has no last name (for example, Julian of Norwich), type the author's name as written in the content table. If the work is ©, do not write a name. Write the title of the text after the author's name, itis, if it is a new job and place it in dimension marks if it is a shorter piece. If there is a translator quoted, type "Trans", followed by the translator's name. For example: Trans. Seamus Heaney, Marlowe, Christopher. "The Pastor Passion to His Love." Step 4Write the following publishing information after the title or translator of the text, italicizing the wordsNorton Anthology of English Literature: The Norton Anthology of English Literature. 8th ed. Eds. Stephen Greenblatt et al. Step 5Write "Vol."Followed by the volume of the edition from which you drew the text. Enter a period after volume number or letter. Step 6Write the following publication information after the volume number: New York, New York: W. W. W. Norton +Company, Inc., 2006. Step 7Write the numbers of the page of the text you are quoting, followed by a period. Finish typing "Print". A final entry may be as follows: Chaucer, Geoffrey. "The Wife of Bath's Tale." Norton Antology of English Literature. Stephen Greenblatt et al. Vol A. New York, New York: W.W. Norton +Company, Inc., 2006. 275-283 Print. APASStep 1Cite in text using the author of the text you are using, not the anthology editors. In brackets, enter the surname of the author, o n e comma, the year "2006", another comma and the number of the page from which you took the information. If you mention the surname of the author in the body of your essay, place "2006" between brackets after the name of the author and the number of the page between brackets at the end of the sentence. For example: The Bath Woman claims to have had five husbands (Chaucer, 2006, p. 257). Chaucer (2006) compares the wife of Bath's husbands to the husbands of Samaritan's wife at the pox (p. 257). Step 2Cite a text without a known author using the title of the text instead of the author's name. Put the shortest works in quotes and italize the longest works title. For example: "The Dream of Root" (2006) describes the cross of Christ covered with gold and precious stones (p. 27). Some Anglo-Saxon poets described Christ in his crucifixion as a warrior ("The Dream of the Rood", 2006, p. 27). Step 3Cite the text in your bibliography by writing the last name of the author, followed by the first initial and a period. If the author has no last name (e.g. Julian of Norwich), write the author's name as written in the Write (2006) after the author's name. Write the title of the text, taking advantage of only the first letter of the title and any substantives themselves. If there is no author, write the title followed by (2006). If there is a translator cited, write the translator's first and last name in brackets, followed by "trans." For example: Beowulf. (2006). (S. Heaney, Trans.) Marlowe, C. (2006.) The pastor in love with his love. Step 4Write the following publishing information after the title or translator of the text, in itlico of the words "the Norton anthology of English literature": in S. Greenblatt, MH Abrams, A. David, B. Lipking, G. Logan, Lipan . . . J. Simpson (EDS), the Norton anthology of English literature; Step 5 written "vol". Enter the number or letter of the volume in which you found the text, followed by a scroll. Write the title of the volume, taking advantage of only the first letter. For example: Marlowe, C. (2006.) the pastor in love with his love. In S. Greenblatt, M. H. Abrams, A. David, B. Lewalski, L. Lipking, G. Logan . . . J. Simpson (EDS), the Norton anthology of English literature: Vol B. The 16©th century and the first of the sā©culo XVII ESCOTE 6WRITE "8Aº ED". and the page number of the text between parentheses. Place a peron after the parentheses. For example: Marlowe, C. (2006.) the pastor in love with his love. In S. Greenblatt, M. H. Abrams, A. David, B. Lewalski, L. Lipking, G. Logan . . . J. Simpson (EDS.), The Norton anthology of English literature: Vol B. The 16©th century and the first of the 17©th century (8th ed., p. 1022). Step 7 write the following information after the number of pages: New York, NY: W. W. Norton & Company, Inc., 2006. 2006.
